

MacFacts Presidents Message Winter 2015

Hawaii's Macadamia Nut industry is alive and well! Macadamia nut prices are good, as they are for most of the tree nuts in the United States. The American consumer has finally gotten the message that nuts are good for one's health and as a result, nut sales have increased

One of the positive effects of a healthy macadamia nut industry in Hawaii is the renewed interest in the Hawaii Macadamia Nut Association (HMNA). In August 2013, a small group got together and decided it was time to reorganize the association. Meetings of the officers and Directors, along with others who have an interest in the industry started meeting on the first Tuesday of each month. Recently we changed the meeting date to the third Tuesday of each month and the start time of 10:30am. Ed Olson has been kind enough to let us meet at his Wainaku Center just outside of Hilo. (This is the former C. Brewer building on the northside of Hilo bay) We welcome any member or those interested in becoming a member to our monthly meetings.

The newly reorganized association was led by David Rietow, President and Richard Schnitzler, Vice President, with John Kai as Secretary and John Cross as Treasurer. In June of 2014 the HMNA held its Annual Conference, the first general meeting of the HMNA in just over eight years. Several topics and guest presentations were had over the course of six hours on that Saturday. A special thanks to Phyllis Stine, Charles Ensey, and John Cross for organizing this event. And Yes, we are planning on another informational presentation to the membership this coming June 20th.

Phyllis Stine, HMNA Secretary and Sharon Motomura of CTAHR has been actively working on updating the HMNA website in order to provide the membership and interested parties with the most updated information regarding macadamia nuts and the Association.
